

By JUNE JONES

TRUMAN NIX, who has already endeared himself in the hearts of boys of Hamlin High School as their head football coach, as well as business men and others of the town, was spinning a yarn Tuesday about co-operation. He said:

"It was several years ago, we understand, that the devout Pilgrim of Pennsylvania had dressed on a Sunday morning in preparation for the Sunday services of the Quaker when he remembered that he had failed to milk old Bossy. He grabbed his milk pail and hied to the milk-pen, regaled in his high top hat, knee pants and buckles.

"No sooner had he started his milking than old Bossy kicked him fiercely.

"Now, Bossy," he said, "thou knowest I cannot strike thee on the Sabbath. So behave."

"Again the cow kicked him as he resumed his milking. 'Look here, Bossy, thou knowest I cannot curse thee nor strike thee on the Sabbath.'

"On his third attempt, the old cow slapped him with a cockle-bur-filled tail. 'Bossy, listen, thou knowest I cannot curse thee nor strike thee—but thou dost not know that I can sell thee to a Baptist deacon friend of mine who can curse and whale the tar out of thee, Sunday or no Sunday.'

COMMENTING the other day on the continued declarations of health specialists about rules and conventions, we were reminded of one angle we had not thought of.

A famous doctor is quoted as saying that "bathing alone will not keep you healthy." Nevertheless, we prefer to bathe alone!

MAKING A GO of things is seldom easy, and after things are accomplished there are extenuating circumstances. For example:

If your efforts are criticized you must have done something worthwhile.

If some one calls you a fool, go in silence and meditate.

If the world laughs at you, laugh right back. It's as funny as you are.

If you have tried to do something and failed, you are vastly better off than if you had tried to do nothing and succeeded.

EVEN THE KIDS of today are becoming cagey about their ages, just like the women of this age.

"How old are you?" inquired the visitor of his host's little son.

"That is a difficult question," answered the infant prodigy. "The latest personal survey available shows my psychological age to be 12, my moral age four, anatomical age seven, and my physiological age six. I suppose, however, you are referring to my chronological age, which is eight. That is so old-fashioned that I seldom think of it any more."

A STAMFORD WOMAN recently returned from an overseas voyage, and ran in to some difficulty as she was endeavoring to get past the customs desk.

The customs official was asking the usual questions.

"Anything to declare, madam?"

"No, she replied, 'not a thing.'"

"Then, madam," said the official politely, "am I to take it that the fur tail hanging down your coat is your own?"

PUZZLED PARENT of today has a difficult time trying to make sense from the bee-bop talk of his teen-age son and daughter. As a case in point, a Hamlin school official reports:

The telephone rang in the principal's office the other day.

"Is this the high school?" asked a worried voice.

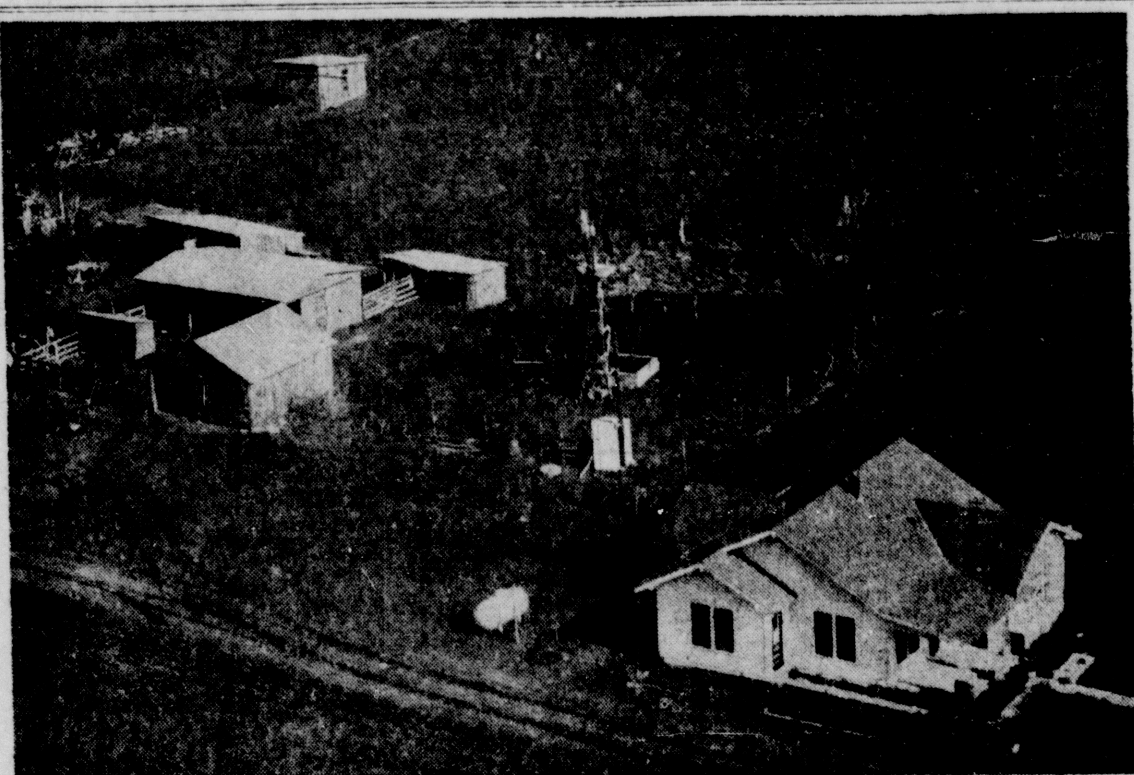

"Yes," replied the principal. "What can I do for you?"

"I'm calling up to find out if you have any classes at night that a father can attend to learn the slang of the day so he will be able to understand what his children are talking about," replied the worried one.

NOT AT THAT PRICE.

"I suppose the operation will be dangerous, doctor?"

"Nonsense. You couldn't get a dangerous operation for $40."

Supply of Commercial Polio Vaccine Received by Hospital

117 Inoculations Made Available to Area Youngsters

First shipment of commercial poliomyelitis vaccine for general availability was received Saturday at Hamlin Memorial Hospital, officials of the hospital announced this week. Principal supplies of the vaccine previously were handled through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and was administered to school children of lower grades and in epidemic areas.

A total of 117cc was received, which will be given to 117 children as the first injection of a series of three required for complete vaccination, hospital authorities declared.

Based on the best available information, the initial shipments of polio vaccine will be given to children between the ages of three and nine years inclusive, and pregnant women.

Immediately following the approval of the Salk vaccine on April 12 approximately 400 registered at the Hamlin hospital as being interested in securing the immunization. Starting at the head of this list, a sufficient number have been notified by telephone or mail that the first shot is now available, and others will be notified upon receipt of additional vaccine, which is expected in the near future.

It is the general opinion that within a short time the laboratories will be able to meet the demand for the Salk vaccine in the critical age group up to 18 years. The national foundation's requirements have practically been filled, which is allowing the present production to be channeled into commercial use.

Bid to Be Made for Small New Industry for Hamlin

County Agent Says Cotton Crop May Reach 27,000 Bales

Although Jones County's cotton and feed crops are generally poor again this year as a result of the continued drought, they will be better as a whole than last year and better than the average for the past four years.

This was the assertion this week of County Agent Bill Lehmborg, who pointed out that the lack of rain during the crucial developing and fruiting period of crops during the past 60 days was responsible for the failure of the promising crop outlook of two months ago.

Lehmborg estimated that Jones County farmers will make 27,000 bales of cotton this year off the 115,000 acres of their 116,338-acre allotment. Last year's production was 26,000 bales off the 135,000 acres seeded to cotton.

Cotton was damaged two weeks ago by wind, dust and rainstorm. Harvesting of feed in the county is about complete, the agent said. Yields have been running from 400 to 1,200 pounds of feed per acre.

Some wheat in the region is up, but it will need some moisture soon if it continues to make headway. Most of the wheat acreage in the section has not been sown.

at a special election last Tuesday.

A petition bearing 91 names of residents of Northeast Hamlin including the colored section, was presented to the group. It requested extension of sewer lines to that region. City Engineer Roy Dunlap presented estimates of cost of such extension amounting to $33,465, which could only be financed through a bond issue.

Available Labor Survey Started as Basis for Project

Prospect of Hamlin's securing a small industry that would provide employment for an estimated 100 men and women loomed on the horizon this week, as a preliminary survey to ascertain the amount of workers available for the project got underway.

A Dallas concern manufacturing women's and children's clothing has indicated a desire for possible expansion to this area, declared Mayor Willard Jones, who had been contacted recently.

The concern has been in business many years, and already has three small plants in Texas engaged in the manufacturing process, it is pointed out.

Payroll of upwards of $4,000 per week is possible, a preliminary estimate reveals. This would mean around $200,000 per year.

Deemed of primary importance to the concern is an employment availability survey. In view of the fact that no Chamber of Commerce is now functioning in Hamlin, a coupon is being printed at the bottom of this page for the convenience of applicants. Additional coupons are available at The Herald and the office of J. E. Patterson, Chamber of Commerce president. The coupons may be returned either to The Herald or Patterson.

Employment would be available to a few men, and probably 75 women and girls, who would operate cutting, sewing and finishing machines, the mayor stated.

Incidentally, the dire need of a functioning Chamber of Commerce for this project and others of similar nature is being felt by many Hamlin citizens. Patterson points out, who is anxious that a reorganization program be carried out soon.

HOME PATRONAGE IS BASIS FOR CITY'S GROWTH

Hamlin is only half as good a town as it might be if the people of the community were loyal to its enterprises and institutions! It is only half as prosperous, and has only half the facilities for recreation, churches, schools, employment and contentment that it is capable of!

Those are bold statements, but they are reasonable, according to numerous community minded visitors who have come to the town during recent years—who have marvelled at the economy of the area, its resources, employment, and possibilities for expansion. They are agreed to by many business men and others.

But the sad part of the whole situation is that not many of us are doing anything about the situation.

Nearly every person in Hamlin wants a better community with bigger and better facilities that would make it a finer place in which to live. But what is he doing about it?

Experts have declared that the whole secret of remedying the current slack business, the element of unemployment that exists here, and filling the vacant business houses as well as having more businesses and industry to locate here is lack of home town loyalty.

At the risk of making ourselves more unpopular in the community, we boldly declare that unless we of the Hamlin community take this matter of trading at home as a personal problem, our town will swivel and go backward just as scores of other smaller cities that have ignored this vital aspect in the past have done.

Making it plainer, we challenge every citizen of the town to ask himself: If everybody who patronizes me, pays me a salary or otherwise makes it possible for me to live in this community, educate my children here, provides me with paved streets, police and fire protection, did just like me, what kind of a town would I have? This applies to my banking, dry goods and ready-to-wear, groceries, appliances, automobiles, professional services, gasoline, drugs, printing, lumber and building materials, farm implements and supplies.

If the druggist, grocer and service station man are dependent on the town for a livelihood, they are due to buy their automobiles, clothes and appliances in Hamlin; if the banker, school teacher, doctor and preacher depend on the town for a livelihood, then they are duty-bound to buy their shoes, hats, TVs, printing and dry cleaning at home; if the car dealer, gasoline consignee, lumber yard man and barber rely on Hamlin area people for their bread and butter, then their fellow merchants deserve their loyalty—the cycle is endless, but every blessed one of us is obligated to our community, whether we recognize that obligation or not.

If the local citizen goes to Abilene or Fort Worth or Stamford to make his purchases, then he should look to those places for a school, a church, fire protection and friends in a time of need.

Business taken to other cities done here at home would mean more businesses to our town; more people would be given employment, who would in turn create more trade; more people would move to our city, which would mean a growing town instead of one retrogressing. Resulting prosperity would rub off on all of us—everybody would profit by it.

Let's resolve to do something about this vital matter. Next time you start to Abilene with money you made in Hamlin, consider where the means came from! We will if you will—but it's a personal thing, remember.

Observing Traffic Signs

"Stop on the red, go on the green. Don't sneak through the in-between!"

This bit of rhyming advice was given this week to Texas pedestrians by E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc. McFadden reminded walkers that the signs-of-life program which the Texas Safety Association and Department of Public Safety are sponsoring in cooperation with the National Safety Council applies to pedestrians as well as motorists.

"Too many walkers expect drivers to accept all the responsibility for traffic safety," he said. "They ignore the traffic signs and signals provided for their protection, and very often their carelessness costs them their lives."

McFadden said that last year alone 7,900 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents. It is his belief that many of these persons might be alive today if they had heeded the signs-of-life. According to McFadden, some of the unsafe practices indulged in by these unfortunate walkers were: Crossing against the signal at intersections, crossing intersections diagonally, and crossing between intersections. "Such careless actions invite disaster," he said, "and our pedestrian death toll will remain high as long as walkers have so little regard for their own safety."

"Traffic signs and signals are the pedestrian's signs-of-life," he said. "Know them and obey them!"

Strategy for Towns

Recently in a trade journal we saw an interesting series of pictures. Each was that of an unusually intelligent man in deep study, facing a stiff problem, but failing to take action. A caption under each picture revealed the specific difficulty. The few simple words involved with the pictures as a series were these: "Concentrate, Speculate, Meditate, Hesitate—Their Fate in Checkmate!"

In the game of chess, and the big game of community growth and development, it takes vision and action both to equal development!

Out of Darkness

The most brilliant lights of literature have shone in dark and uncongenial times. Amid the clouds of bigotry and oppression, in the darkest days of tyranny and demoralization, their luster has been the most brilliant.

Under the luxurious tyranny of the empire, Virgil and Horace sang their immortal strains; the profligacy of Louis XIV produced a Voltaire and a Rousseau. Amid the oppression of his country, grew and flourished the gigantic intellect of Milton. Ireland, in the darkest times of her gloomy history, gave birth to the imperishable genius of Swift; it was less the liberty of Athens than the tyranny of Philip which made Demosthenes an orator.

Editorial of the Week

YOUR CITIZENSHIP DEBT

You often wonder about the way a mind works. You find a man who lives in a community for years and who has achieved great wealth, yet does not hesitate to leave his estate to enterprises far away from home.

It makes you believe that the knocks one sometimes receives around home makes him unappreciative of the community that has helped him to become successful.

The other day the newspaper carried the story about the will of a Lubbock man. He owned farm land in Moore County near Dumas valued at $125,000 with an income of $3,600 yearly from one gas well.

That property was willed to an Abilene institution. The choice of Abilene was made over Moore County, which produced the wealth, and over some institution or charity in his home town.

The man also, it was reported, left some $200,000 to an orphan's home. His sense of the need of public institutions had been developed, but one cannot keep from believing that the community in which he lived and the places that had been a factor in creating the wealth did deserve some consideration in his will.—The Panhandle Herald.

Postmaster Gives History of Postal Service at Rotary

Hamlin Rotarians came away from Wednesday noon's regular luncheon meeting at the oil mill guest house with a better knowledge of the history and services offered by their post office. The speaker for the gathering was Perry Sparks, postmaster at Hamlin.

"Your U. S. Post Office Department is one of the country's biggest businesses," declared the postmaster as he pointed out that in 1954 the public service handled 54,500,000,000 pieces of mail.

What probably most people do not know, said Sparks, is that the post office department was first established as part of the intelligence department of the continental Army. The first telegraph message was sent by the Post Office Department from Washington to Baltimore in 1834. Sparks went on to outline the various types of service that are available at nominal cost to the people of the country, including integrated foreign mail service. Incidentally, foreign mail service was established, Sparks said, at a world conference in Paris, France, during Abraham Lincoln's administration.

Besides Sparks, other guests at the Wednesday luncheon were George Beard of Sweetwater; Billy L. McCauley, H. D. Tebay and W. G. Alberts of Stamford; Burk Pribble of Hobbs, New Mexico; and Carlton Billups and Carl Duffield of Abilene.

HHS Student Council Organizes for Year

Members of the Student Council of Hamlin High School last week organized the group for the ensuing year, according to Harold Williams, science teacher and sponsor for the group.

The following officers have been named: Paige Baize, president; Rodney Spaulding, vice president; Annette Smith, secretary-treasurer; Dee Prewitt, reporter; Reba Roland, parliamentarian.

Other members of the council, which acts as a liaison agency between the student body and the faculty, are Joye B. Cary, Elizabeth Norton, Steve Reynolds, Sara Kay Fomby, Virgil Wilson, John Walker, Ed Shields and Wyvonne Conner.

STORY WITH MORAL.

After eating the bull, the lion felt so good he roared and roared. A hunter heard him and shot the lion.

Moral: When you are full of bull, keep your mouth shut!

Care in Use of Mechanical Cotton Picker Can Control Quality of Ginned Staple

Numbers of farmers in the Hamlin sector expect to utilize mechanical cotton pickers this season, and naturally they are interested in efforts to improve the quality of cotton so harvested, which has been a factor in the slow acceptance of the pickers.

The grade of mechanically harvested cotton can be improved or lowered by the practices used during the harvesting process, says Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

If strippers are used, Elliott advises producers to get the latest information from the local county agent on defoliation. He also suggests that weeds and especially Johnson grass be cleared from the fields before stripping is commenced. Spot oiling is suggested for this job.

When harvesting is begun, do not strip when the cotton is wet. Most gins, he adds, are equipped to do a good job if the cotton is brought to them in proper condition. One of the most important of these conditions is dryness.

He suggests the use of blowers on the strippers and wire or slatted sides for the trailers. Make the trailers large enough so tramping will not be necessary, he advises. Growers have told him it costs from $5 to $15 a bale to tramp cotton on a trailer. This will soon pay for extra trailers.

When spindle type pickers are used, he again advises seeing the county agent for defoliation information. Pick the cotton only when it is dry and be sure the machine is kept clean. Don't tramp the cotton, for trash is ground into the lint and lower grades will result.

In case of custom harvesting, he suggests that a small piece of blackboard be placed on the side of the trailer. It will carry the number of the trailer; the producer's name; weight loaded; notation, machine picked and pounds needed to make the desired weight bale and finally the name of picker operator. This information is valuable to the ginner as well as the producer.

For those who must put cotton on the ground and load later are advised that plans for a tractor loader (No. 378) are available from the local county agent. Finally, says Elliott, don't overlook any practice which will save or make money. The cost-price squeeze which is growing even tighter on the agricultural producer can best be met with more efficient operation.

Santa Fe Carloadings Still Topping 1954

Santa Fe Railway System carloadings for the week ending September 3, 1955, were 22,837 compared with 22,414 for the same week in 1954. Cars received from connections totaled 12,739 compared with 11,827 for the same week in 1954.

Total cars moved were 35,576 compared with 34,241 for the same week in 1954. Santa Fe handled a total of 35,463 cars in the preceding week of this year.

FARM WITH SAFETY.

Long hours of hard work are commonplace with farm families during the harvest season and is a period of increasing numbers of farm and home accidents. Fatigue, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee, is a contributing cause to this increase. "Be more careful and don't take chances which could lead to trouble for the time saved isn't worth the cost if an accident is the final result," warns the committee.

SHE KEPT A DIARY OF TELEPHONE CALLS

Mrs. Martha Chance—homemaker, church worker, bowler, and keeper of a telephone diary that revealed an important fact.

Mrs. Chance finds the telephone a young homemaker's best friend

What one service helps the homemaker through busy days more different ways than any other?

Mrs. Martha Chance is sure she knows the answer. Her telephone, Mrs. Chance recently kept a week-long diary of telephone calls made and received in her home. The results surprised her.

Mrs. Chance listed 95 calls during the week. Not only did her calls save time and energy in managing her home, but many were actually the start of a pleasant afternoon or evening out.

In Mrs. Chance's own words, "It's so easy to take your telephone for granted. You just don't realize how much it means to you until you stop and think about it as I have."

Mrs. Chance is right. Telephone service is a busy homemaker's best friend.

New Officers Named By Junior High Girls' 4-H Club Monday

Two new officers were elected when members of the Hamlin Junior High 4-H Club met Monday afternoon in the lunchroom of the Junior High School building.

Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Jones County home demonstration agent, met with the girls and invited new members to join.

The president, Ann Maberry, called the meeting to order. After the group repeated the motto, pledge and prayer, the two new officers were named, as follows: Georgianna Fitzgerald, reporter; and Charles Peadar, song leader.

Miss Wainscott demonstrated how to make chocolate fudge without cooking it, and handed out some recipes to the present.

Pork, Potatoes and Rice on Plentiful List For Foods in October

Featured spots on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's October plentiful foods list go to pork, rice and potatoes, Hamlin area housewives are advised.

But, according to Mae Belle Smith, specialist in consumer education for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, generous supplies of beef, broilers and fryers, canned tuna, pinto beans and other dairy products are available.

Too, grapes and vegetable fats and oils are in heavy supply. The Texas sweet potato crop is moving, and supplies make it a good buy. Homemakers, because of the many dishes in which sweet potatoes can be featured, should find this root crop a food bargain.

The monthly plentiful foods list is based on a survey of food stocks in the major trade territories of the region.

Poverty is no disgrace to a man but it is confoundingly inconvenient.—Sidney Smith.

Post Antelopes Invade Town Tonight for Third Grid Tilt

Coaches Declare Pipers Ready for Repeat Victory

Another tough non-conference engagement is in store for the Hamlin High School Pipers tonight (Friday) when the Antelopes from Post come out of the northwest for a fracas on the local gridiron. The game gets underway at 8:00 o'clock.

The Pipers, after two whammies by the Winters Blizzards and the Haskell Indians, have victory ideas in their heads and spizzintum in their bones. The Pipers defeated Post last year by a 19 to 6 score at Post.

Coaches Truman Nix and Jim Herridge are planning a different defensive tactic from that used in the first two tilts in the hope of controlling the opponents' scoring. Kenneth Parker and Don Adair will be used in quarterback posts, too, they declare.

Post so far has won one game and lost one. The Antelopes defeated Morton 13 to 7, and by the same score took the measure of the Crosbyton crew.

District 4-AA Teams Break Even in Last Week's Tilt as Colorado City Stays Idle

With Colorado City remaining out of action last week-end because of a polio scare, the other four members of District 4-AA broke even on the football games reeled off. Rotan defeated Roby; Stamford trimmed Andrews; Haskell trounced the Hamlin crew; and Winters chilled the Anson aggregation.

Colorado City's scheduled tilt with Ballinger was cancelled by a polio warning issue for the Mitchell County capital.

George Bridges, Rotan tailback, had a field night Friday when he scored all three touchdowns as the Yellowhammers took the measure of the Class A Roby Lions in a game played on the Yellowhammer grid. The score was 20 to 0. The game was played following a 1.20-inch rain that kept most of the anticipated crowd from the game.

Stamford's rampaging Bulldogs continued their winning skein by snowing under the Andrews Mustangs 19 to 6 in a game played on the Stamford field. Andrews was first to tally on a quick drive through the middle in the first quarter. Stamford tallied also in the first frame on a six-yard plunge by Tailback Donald Wills after he had made a 56-yard run. Stamford scored two more touchdowns in the final quarter by Mike McClellan and Jackie Mills. First downs favored Stamford 19 to six.

Scoring three touchdowns in five minutes of the second quarter the Haskell High School Indians got into the win column Friday night with a 31 to 6 victory over the Hamlin Pipers in a tilt played on the Haskell griddle. Tough breaks and costly fumbles, coupled with several unpunished rough demonstrations accounted for most of the ineffectiveness of the Hamlin boys. Jim Byrd went over on a pass for the first Indian score. Glen Kreger tallied the second on an end run, and the third touchdown was pushed over by Jerry Larned on a pass interception. Don Mullins scored for Haskell early in the third period, and Bobby McGary turned in the final Haskell score on a pass. Doug Ford scored Hamlin's one tally four minutes deep in the final period.

Strength of the Winters Blizzards, who the previous week had defeated the Hamlin Pipers, was further verified Friday night when the Winters crew defeated the Anson Tigers 25 to 13 on the Winters griddle. The Winters boys capitalized on three fumbles and an intercepted pass to rack up the score of four touchdowns. Don Roach scored two of the Winters touchdowns and others were made by Left Halfback Maurice Holle and Lynn Faubion. The Anson tallies were made by Royce Rodgers on a 55-yard pass, and again by Rodgers on an end-zone toss.

McCaulley Eagles to Play Ira Crew Tonight

Coach Charles Yarborough's McCaulley High School Eagles will go to Ira, in Scurry County, for their second football game of the season tonight (Friday).

The Eagles defeated the Peacock crew last Thursday by an 18 to 12 count.

DISTRICT 4-AA STANDINGS

Reputation of the five member teams of District 4-AA in football play change very little after last week's games, and certainly did not improve any. Although the tilts had no effect on the conference standing, they did reflect the apparent strength of the five teams.

Colorado City did not play its scheduled game against Ballinger because of a polio scare. Standing of the teams this week looks like this:

Team	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Stamford	2	2	0	1.000
Colorado City	1	1	0	1.000
Rotan	2	1	1	.500
Anson	2	0	2	.000
Hamlin	2	0	2	.000

Results Last Week.

Haskell 31, Hamlin 6.
Stamford 19, Andrews 6.
Colorado City at Ballinger, cancelled because of polio.
Rotan 20, Roby 0.

This Week's Schedule.

Stamford at Sweetwater.
Colorado City at Kermit, cancelled because of polio.
Ballinger at Anson.
Post at Hamlin.

McCaulley's Six-Man Gridders Beat Peacock in Thursday Tilt 18-12

McCaulley High School's Eagles took their last week's six-man football game with Peacock by an 18 to 12 score.

Touchdowns were racked up for McCaulley by Neal Woods, Julius Decker and Don Alexander off single wing formations under the tutoring of Charles Yarborough.

A pass to Neal Woods from Don Alexander put the Eagles out in front early in the first period of the game. A pass from Julius Decker to Don Alexander in the second quarter gave the Eagles a 12 to 0 lead at the half. A fake kick was turned into a pass from Alexander to Decker, who tallied the final touchdown for McCaulley. All three extra point tries failed.

Yarborough was the outstanding player for peacock.

Roughhouse Tactics and Bad Breaks Help Haskell to Defeat Pipers 31 to 6 Friday

Although the field work of the two teams was pretty evenly matched, the Haskell Indians defeated the Hamlin Pipers by a 31 to 6 score last Friday night in the second game for the two teams on the Haskell field.

About 2,000 fans witnessed the game between the two proverbial rivals that saw plenty of roughhouse tactics by the Indian crew. Officials penalized the Haskell aggregation seven times for 85 yards, but fans and players declared that was not nearly sufficient.

Putting over three touchdowns in five minutes of play late in the second quarter, the Indians were favored with breaks, including two pass interceptions and two recovered fumbles to rack up their 31 points.

Quarterback Robert Starr passed two yards to Right End Jim Byrd for the first Indian marker. A few minutes later Glen Kreger swept around right end for 25 yards and another tally. Jerry Larned went over for the third touchdown on an intercepted pass. Larned also intercepted another pass in the third period to score again.

Left halfback Don Mullins returned the second half kick-off to set up the fifth touchdown, which was made by Bobby McNary on a nine-yard ump pass.

Hamlin's single touchdown was made four minutes deep in the last quarter. Left Halfback Virgil Wilson took a punt on his own 45-yard spot and ran for four yards. Kenneth Hewett then put it on the 36-yard locale with a run. After Doug Ford raced to the one-yard line, he then pushed the oval over the line for the tally.

Haskell made eight first downs to six for the Pipers. Hamlin racked up 148 yards on the ground to 118 yards for Haskell, proving the contention that the locals did play good straight football. Haskell connected with five of 17 pass tosses for 83 yards' gain, while Hamlin failed to complete any of their eight aerial tries.

Mystery Picture Identified by Mrs. F. R. Alexander

Last week's mystery farm picture printed in The Herald was first correctly identified by Mrs. F. R. Alexander of Route 1, McCaulley, who will receive a one-year subscription to The Herald.

The picture was an aerial view of the Y-6 Ranch owned by Mrs. Faye Young Morton, located five miles northwest of Hamlin.

The ranch, a landmark in the region, was originally part of the spread settled by Mrs. Morton's grandfather in 1885 along the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River. Inherited by Mrs. Morton's father, the place was later divided between the three Young children.

Mrs. Morton moved to the place about 20 years ago, and she has operated it successfully since. It contains about six sections. Living with Mrs. Morton is her daughter, Mary Trammell. Mrs. Morton has a son, W. B. Trammell of Houston.

Besides the big pasture spread, about 800 acres of the ranch is devoted to cultivation, on which wheat, oats and feeds are raised.

A good sized herd of registered Hereford cattle is maintained on the Y-6, animals having distinguished themselves for many years in area and regional shows. Mrs. Morton is a member of the West Texas and Southwestern Hereford Associations and the National Beef Council.

Merkel Juniors Use Breaks to Trip Mighty Mice 19-13

Merkel's Little Badgers, with Lady Luck in their corner, defeated the Mighty Mice of Hamlin Junior High School at Merkel Tuesday night by a 19 to 13 score in the second conference tilt of the season.

Coach Harry Martin's youngsters roundly outplayed the Merkel crew, gaining nine first downs to Merkel's one. Merkel completed one pass for a touchdown, ran a kick-off back for 70 yards and a touchdown, and caught a fumbled ball in the air and ran for their third tally with only three minutes of play remaining.

The Mighty Mice took the opening kick-off and marched to the two-yard line before being held for downs. Merkel tried a pitch-out that went astray, with Hamlin recovering on the one-yard line. Arlon Baize plunged over for the touchdown. Ken Prewitt split the center for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter the Hamlin boys went into the lead, 13 to 6 after having a drive bog down on the Merkel four-yard line. Merkel fumbled, with Hamlin recovering on the 10-yard line. Wesley Cummings rambled four yards for the tally.

Outstanding players for Hamlin on the defense were Bobby Ellison and Durwood Boyd. Arlon Baize and Ken Prewitt showed up well on offense.

Heart Attack at Slaton A. M. Fry Dies After

A. M. Fry, former long-time resident of Hamlin and railroader on the Santa Fe lines, suffered a second attack last week at his home at Slaton, where he moved several years ago when he retired. He was taken to a Slaton hospital, where he died Wednesday night.

His brother, Loy D. Fry, said Thursday morning tentative funeral arrangements had been made for the railroader for Friday afternoon.

Football Coaches Speak at Tuesday Lions Club Session

Head Football Coach of Hamlin High School Truman Nix told members and guests of Hamlin Lions Club that athletics is responsible for many boys securing an education today, when he spoke Tuesday at the weekly luncheon of the club at the oil mill guest house.

He and the three other coaches in the Hamlin Schools gave rundowns of the football status in the schools as the program feature.

Nix, a native of Loraine, stated that if it had not been for football scholarships for him he never would have been able to secure a college education. He went on to point out that, even in high school, lots of boys were held in school who would otherwise never complete their high school course. "Not only does today's athletic program keep the kids in school, but it teaches them vital aspects of fair play, cooperation and other attributes that many of them would never get," Nix asserted.

Nix and the other coaches—Jim Herridge, high school line coach; Harrell Blackburn, B string coach; and Harry Martin, Junior High coach—gave resumes of progress with the various football teams.

Lions Club President Bill Seals announced plans for a caravan-for-the-blind, a sale of brooms as a benefit project, for October 6.

Beside the three latter coaches, other guests at the Tuesday luncheon were Joe Breed of Anson and Tom Lowery of Denton.
